EDMONTON AREA ALBERTA DRESSAGE ASSOCIATION

Edmonton Dressage was born in 1978 when an enthusiastic group of riders decided that Edmonton needed an association to promote the sport of dressage. Our official founders were Mona and Ray Bonello, Diane Bannman, Tom Budd, Karl Goldgrabe, Doris Jacobi, Evelyn and Paul McBride and Heidi Schultz.

Early in EAADA's life, the association began to organize little shows. The Wild Rose series was rotated at local stables up to four times a year designed primarily for new and basic riders and horses and usually judged by volunteers. As interest and training levels increased, more formal competitions were added to the schedule with certified (and paid!) judges, until we were putting on an annual Edmonton show with participants from Alberta and beyond, bringing top judges from North America. We took turns with the other Area Groups in Alberta to run the Provincial Championships in Edmonton and Red Deer, and then the Western National Championships in 1995. With the support of our dedicated membership, our many friends and generous sponsors, we brought the first CDI (Concours de Dressage International) competition to Western Canada, hosting it at Amberlea Meadows in 2009. It was so successful that we were awarded a higher level CDI in 2010.

EAADA continues to encourage sessions with instructors and clinicians who can enrich our dressage riders' performance and their enjoyment of every aspect of the sport. Depending on the energy of all the volunteers and the level of financing available, we will continue to offer show-riding opportunities such as Sparkles and Spurs for riders from Training Level to FEI Grand Prix.

The Edmonton Area Alberta Dressage Association (EAADA) is a non-profit association of riders, owners, and supporters of the equine sport of dressage. We sponsor Equine Canada sanctioned dressage shows, clinics and seminars to promote the sport, with a strong focus on assisting and developing young riders.

The Mission of Edmonton Area Alberta Dressage Association is to:

- ❖ Provide a supportive community of like-minded people
- ❖ Promote and encourage a high standard of accomplishment in dressage
- ❖ Offer educational opportunities to develop skills
- ❖ Connect members to local, provincial and national events
- ❖ Competitors, Officials, Volunteers, & Spectators
