

SUSAN HUGHES
VICE-PRESIDENT

I previously held the treasurer position that has now been taken over by Kim Alcorn. Kim has taken a studious approach to the role and is a great new executive member.

As the vice president of the EAADA Executive I will sit in on meetings and make sure members and supporters are satisfied with the direction the club is going. The VP may also help by leading meetings among other duties when the president is unavailable. I have been actively involved with the club for over 10 years now and even though I no longer own or ride horses I enjoy participating and giving back to the dressage community.

The main activity that has gained my attention lately, is dog agility. I am now, very involved with trials and training my sweet red and white border collie Jade.

The photo I supplied, is of me with one of the many dressage horses I have owned over the years Kozan King Kozan is the TB that truly taught me the most and inspired my passion for the art of dressage. We developed an amazing bond and I while I learned a great deal, I always felt so safe riding him.
